Mrs. E. E. Davis, of San Miguel, Cal., says: "I am trying in a measure to repay the manufacturers of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for the great good their remedy has done me. For years I was a constant sufferer from weak lungs and bronchitis. My rest at night was disturbed by a hacking cough, so that I felt miserable the greater part of the time. Many remedies recommended by friends were tried, none of which proved suitable to my case. I did not experience any beneficial results until I began taking Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. After two bottles of the large size have been used, I am pleased to state, my health is better than it has been for years. The soreness has left my lungs and chest and I can breathe easily. It has done me so much good that I want all who are suffering from lung troubles, as I was, to give it a trial." For sale by John M. Rose.

A Mr. Lane living near Maytown was adjudged insane by Judge Carson.

KENTUCKY ITEMIZED.

A RESUME OF THE IMPORTANT EVENTS OF THE WEEK.

Things of a Newsworthy Nature Rolled Down to Suit the Convenience of the Hasty Reader—Keenly Down to Date.

Hog cholera is killing the swine in Knott county.

An unknown man was killed by a train near Hopkinsville.

The unknown "Jack the Dog Killer" is still abroad in Morgantown.

The new Bible college building at Lexington is nearly ready for occupancy.

Little Bessie Lindsey was seriously scalded at Carle by falling into a kettle of boiling water.

The Union College at Barbourville has opened for the fall term with bright prospects.

The grand jury at Whitesburg returned 140 indictments, two-thirds being for killing fish.

The Fleming News is again being published just as of yore. It is a good paper and deserves to succeed.

W. A. Baird, an anti Blackburn man, was nominated by Daviess county Democrats for representative.

The new Methodist church recently completed at Trace Branch, in Knox county, was dedicated Sunday.

The Kentucky University and State College at Lexington opened the fall terms Tuesday.

A penalty will be added on unpaid county taxes in a few days, and this fact is hurrying up tax payers.

There has been a 25 per cent. increase in the attendance at the Vanderbilt training school at Elkton this season.

At Owensboro H. N. Robinson filed suit against John Bellew for $10,000 damages for malicious prosecution.

The members of the Crockett family in Kentucky will attend the meeting of the Crockett Clan, at Alamo, Tenn., September 17.

A Flemingsburg man baled one thousand bales of hay last week which he purchased for $6 a ton. He will ship it east and will realize a snug profit on his investment.

Fires have been started in one of the furnaces of the Watts Steel and Iron plant at Middleboro, for the purpose of drying it out. This furnace will go into blast in about ten or fifteen days.

Too many people move to town with the expectation of getting positions as clerks or some employment where no manual labor is required, says the Columbia Spectator, when in fact the boys are more adapted for rail splitters, having muscles like prize fighters. After laying around town for a year or two waiting for soft snaps, these boys finally develop into chronic loafers.

Don't put up the score-board or the notch-stick until this from Lester, in Knott county, is recorded: "A sixty-one pound catfish was caught out of one of the mountain streams up here last week with a plow line and grab hooks." For the early fall season this does very well.

Later on when the water is in better condition a "century weight" may be entered to the credit of this locality. Winchester heads off this man with a 165 pound catch.

Louisville is filled to overflowing with the G. A. R. Veterans. Two-hundred-thousand already occupy the city, and each hour brings thousands more. Fully 75,000 veterans fell into line on Wednesday and paraded the streets of the color bedecked city. The veterans are being royally entertained and Louisville has cause to congratulate herself on the happy and hospitable manner in which she ministered to their comforts.

Cecil-Swango.

One of the prettiest weddings that has occurred in Hazel Green for some time took place at the Christian Church on Thursday evening last, when Mr. Will Cecil, of Cedar Bluff, Va., led to the altar Miss Ida Swango, one of Hazel Green's fairest and most worthy young ladies. The church was crowded with the friends of the young couple and was tastefully decorated with potted flowers, while two arches formed of vines and flowers and containing the names of the bride and groom added a delicate beauty to the scene. There were six attendants, the ladies being tastefully and becomingly attired in elegant costumes, the gentlemen dressing in conventional black. Rev. Harrison tied the nuptial knot. Mrs. Cord presided at the organ.

Mr. Cecil, the groom, has been a visitor to our little city for a number of years, is a most worthy young gentleman, and counts his friends by his acquaintances. The bride is the accomplished daughter of Mr. Calvin Swango, deceased, and she will be sadly missed by her many friends here.

The young couple left on Friday for the home of the groom, where they will reside. The best wishes of all follow them and THE HERALD joins hosts of others in wishing them a long life of unalloyed happiness.

Peculiar to Itself.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is peculiar to itself, in a strictly medicinal sense, in three important particulars, viz., first, in the combination of remedial agents used; second, in the proportion in which they are mixed; third, in the process by which the active curative properties of the preparation are secured. These three important points make Hood's Sarsaparilla peculiar in its medicinal merit, as it accomplishes cures hitherto unknown.

But is it not what we say but what Hood's Sarsaparilla does, that tells the story. What Hood's Sarsaparilla has done for others is reason for confidence that it is the medicine for you.

Mr. A. C. Nickell has moved his steam mill to this creek and located on the farm of James Anderson, one mile here. Robt. L. Banks is also talking of setting his mill one mile above here on the Banks farm. We hope he will, as these two mills would add considerably to this vicinity.

That Tired Feeling

Is a common complaint and it is a dangerous symptom. It means that the system is debilitated because of impure blood, and in this condition it is especially liable to attacks of disease. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the remedy for this condition, and also for that weakness which prevails at the change of season, climate or life.

Hood's Pills act easily, yet promptly and efficiently on the bowels and liver. 25 cents.

John Wallis Jones, of Morgan county, has accepted a place in the wood shops of Rose & Davis. He will move his family over in a few days.

"The first wealth is health," said the Concord philosopher, and he was right. What's worth without a sound body and strong nerves to enjoy life? The root of the whole trouble is usually the liver. We strongly advise our readers who are troubled with sick-headache, dizziness or sour stomach, to try Ramon's Tonic Liver Pills. They are working wonderful cures in this vicinity. Only 25 cents at the drug store. Sample dose free.

The Hon. Jas. B. McCreary spoke to a large crowd of voters at Warsaw.

KILLING IN ELLIOTT.

DREW M'DANIELS KILLED BY MACK AND WILLIAM ATKINS.

They Were Making Ties in the Woodland and Quarrelled over a Division of Blades. M'Daniels' Head Severed From His Body With an Axe.

News was received of the killing of Drew M'Daniels by Mack and William Atkins, in Elliott county, 17 miles from Morehead. They had been making ties in the woods, living and cooking together in a shanty, and Monday they concluded to separate, and a fight occurred over the division of the dishes. One word brought on another, when it is said one of the Atkins struck at M'Daniels, who grabbed a club, and one of the Atkins drew a revolver, while the other picked up a double-edged axe and started at M'Daniels. Atkins fired five shots at M'Daniels. When the smoke had cleared away M'Daniels' head was found in one part of the room and his body in the other. No bullet wound was found on M'Daniels' body. The sheriff of Elliott county and posse are now out searching for the Atkinses.

Mack Atkins killed his wife and father in Nicholas county about 10 years ago, for which he served a few years in the penitentiary. Bill Atkins killed a man about two years ago on Christy Creek, about five miles from Morehead. He literally chopped him to pieces with an axe. Bill Atkins is the ring-leader in the Atkins-Nichols feud, which had existed in Elliott county for 10 years.

By virtue of warrant of distraint, which issued from the office of C. H. Rhodes, Collector of the 8th District, at Richmond, Ky., directed to me, I will, on Saturday, the 21st day of September, 1895, expose to public outcry for cash in hand, at A. F. Byrd's old law office on Main street in the town of Campton, Wolfe county, Ky., five casks of whiskey, containing about 85 gallons, levied upon by me as the property of J. H. Brown & Co. Hours of sale between 10 a. m. and 1 p. m.

S. M. TUTT, D. C.

Sept. 7th, 1895.

In your blood is the cause of that tired, languid feeling. Hood's Sarsaparilla makes rich, red blood and gives renewed vigor.

Snag Finnelly was a lad with a philosophical mind and a broken tooth, says the New York World. It was this "broken tooth," as he called it, that gave him this pretty little pet name of "Snag."

They were standing on a corner one day when a hot-tempered man passed. "I wonder," said Snag, "what ever made 'em call dem things tonasses?" "Don't you know?" asked Mickey. "Naw! nor you don't needer." "Yes, I does and I'll tell yer if yer wants ter know. Dye know Cully Flynn?" "Yep." "Well, Cully was er goin' up der Bowery one night wid his gal and she said she was hungry. Cull had der price, so he gets gay and says 'come on' and drags her inter a restaurant and sits her down ter a table. Up comes der waiter and says: 'What d'you want?' Der gal's name was Mollie and she says she wants er nice hot sausage an' er cup er coffee. Cull says he wants a cold sausage and er bottle er beer. Der mng wants to git dat order straight, so he says: 'Jat say dat agin.' So Cull says: 'Der hot ter Mollie and der cold ter Cully, see?' Well, he goes away sayin' to himself: 'Hot ter Mollie, cold ter Cully, so at he'll git it right. When he comes back with he says: 'Here's yer hot ter Mollie.'"

"Sure? Aw, go on." "Dat's right an' ever since dat time they calls 'em hot ter mollies." "Yes," said Snag, "I've been ter jist carve my initials into o'dem hot ter mollies right now—talkin' about eatin' allus makes me hungry." And the pair disappeared under the corner in search of something to eat.

Remains in Folk Legs.

All the old stories about the legends about mermaids. The Chinese tell stories not unlike others about the sea woman of their southern seas. Markkin is taught on the most excellent evidence that a mermaid was captured at Beagor on the shores of the Belfast Lough, in the sixth century, while another caught at Sidam in 1460, was carried to Haarlem and kept there for many years.

Heart of a Soupmaker.

On the west side of the track in the shadows lives a German who thought that he was a Jew. He has a reputation of making soap for sale. He collected the proper ingredients, put them together, stirred them to the consistency of paste, and then put it evened out on a board. He then took a board in his yard so that if it would harden over night. He slept a little late and when he finally went to look at his soap cake, behold it had all vanished. He was so angry that he could not think, hard, though, and not stopping to consider what had become of the product of the cake he stirred up the remainder of his mixture and patted it out into twenty-four cakes, each weighing one-quarter of a pound. The man had passed behind the heavy coils on the yard, so the German went to the edge of the road, placed his boards so that the cakes would not be seen, and put thereon his soap cakes that they might harden.

The German turned, saw the last bit of one cake disappear, and then grabbed a big, round, smooth stone, such as the lake casts up, and threw it, as a man "puts" a shot, straight at the robbers. The birds rose, calling: "Thief, thief!" vociferously, for the bluejay is given to calling himself names. The stone landed on the edge of the board and turned the entire soap product into the sticky mass of Portland cement. Soap and cement were ruined.

AN INSECT'S QUEER APPETITE.
It Prefers a Diet of Ocean Cables to Anything Else.

But the era of marine telegraphy seems to have created a new taste in these tiny creatures wherever cables have been laid down, just as animals of larger proportions have acquired the taste for bananas or potted anchovies. They find their way in between the sheathing of strong iron wire and eat through everything in the way of insulating material till they get to the copper strands, when, of course, the water gets in and the conducting power of the cable is at an end.

SLAVE WITH A HERO'S HEART.

people who had seemed to be happy property. His business affairs were mismanaged by agents and lawyers, and he was left with nothing but a few slaves. His health failed, and in his old age he became wholly dependent upon one of his former slaves. This negro was grateful to her for having given him a home, and he was able to draw upon his experiences that he could not manage her plantations successfully, so he had rewarded the fidelity of a small group of emancipated slaves by deeding over to them the plantation. This was the negro received in this way a farm of twenty-six acres with a cabin. He prospered from the outset. He made a living out of his ground and saved money. In the course of a few years he bought another farm and doubled his resources. His purchases included, until he was a truck farmer with considerable stock, a fine horse and a beautiful plantation mistress in his prosperity. When she had lost all her property and there was no other friend to take care of her in her old age this negro returned to her and she lived happily with him for the remainder of her life. Both are still living. On the first day of every month the negro farmer draws a check for one hundred dollars and sends it to the aged woman. His only wish was to be bought free. At first she was unwilling to become his pensioner, but he pressed upon her with tears in his eyes, telling her that he would never have been in the world if she had not given him life. His bounty is now her only resource.

"Kiddy, here comes de cop!"

When the party reassembled in Spruce street both combatants stripped and went at it tooth and nail. When they rapped the others pulled them apart. Finally both clinched with a desperation that defied unraveling and fell quirming to the pavement, where they were between gasps at the others who roed upon their heads. Presently one of them writhed from the other's em-

BACTERIA IN CLOTHES.

In one case, however, Dr. Seitz found the typhoid bacillus in articles of clothing from twenty-one to twenty-seven days, and the staphylococci progenies were abundant in articles which had been worn for a few days. The anthrax bacillus found in clothes was still virulent after a year. The microbes of erysipelas, on the other hand, could not be found after eighteen hours, nor the cholera vibrio after three days. Dr. Seitz studied with special interest the question whether in tuberculosis the tubercle bacillus was destroyed by the heat of the body. He placed a tubercle bacillus was conveyed by the perspiration to a piece of linen worn for some time next the skin of the chest. After the inoculation of two guinea-pigs, however, gave negative results.

At a meeting of the legislative committee appointed by the superintendent of the Morgan county institute, in the public school building in the town of West Liberty, Ky., on Thursday, August 16, 1895, for the purpose of recommending to the general assembly of this commonwealth such measures as are thought necessary for the promotion of the common school interest of this state, and we, the committee, do ask that our representatives in the legislature and state senate take to introduce the measures hereinfor stated and to use all honorable means to the passage of same. After the object of the meeting had been stated, nominations for presiding officers were then in order. On motion Prof. W. H. Cord was made chairman, and M. T. Colvin secretary.

The first was introduced by J. Hanev, which was as follows:

Be it further resolved that the parents or guardians of all pupil children between the age of six and twenty years be required to give them such instruction, if they are adequate to the task, that they may know well at least the English alphabet before being entered in school.

tearing down an old log house near the southern end of this county, Henry Burton found a boat, in which was carefully hidden away $500 in old state bank notes and $400 in gold. Several of the gold coins were dated 1810, and the notes were issued by banks that had quit business about the beginning of the war. Burton paid $50 for the lumber in the house. It is supposed that the money was hidden during the war, when Morgan and his men were raiding through this section.

The tobacco habit grows on a man until his nervous system is seriously affected, impairing comfort, health and happiness. To quit suddenly is too severe a shock to the system as tobacco, to the man who has become a smoker, is an element that his system continually craves. Baco-Curo is a scientific cure for the tobacco habit in all its forms, carefully compounded after the formula of an eminent Danish physician who has used it in his private practice since 1872 without a failure, purely vegetable and guaranteed perfectly harmless. You can use all the tobacco you want while taking Baco-Curo—it gives you relief when tostop. We recently cure our patients of all three habits, or refund the money in full per cent. interest. Baco-Curo is not a substitute, but a scientific cure, that cures without the aid of will power and with no inconvenience. It leaves the system as pure and free from nicotine as the day when you took your first cigarette or smoke. Sold by all druggists, with our iron-clad guarantee, at $2.00 a box, three boxes at $3.00 a treatment, $2.00 sent direct on receipt of price. For the Legislature—91st District,
JOSEPH C. LYKINS,
OF Wolfe.

The Kentucky Hoosier, C. C. Moore, is in trouble again. This time the United States authorities are after him for sending obscene literature through the mails.

Since the mills of the country have resumed operation, and wages have been voluntarily advanced by the mill owners the calamity howlers, like Othello, find their occupation gone. Their discordant yelp is heard no more, and peace and plenty have settled over the entire land. And to the Democratic party is due this era of prosperity.

Gen. Simon B. Buckner, the "sage of Glen Lily," and the noblest Roman of them all, has withdrawn from the senatorial race, and will work for the success of the state ticket this fall. The race for United States senator has narrowed down to Blackburn and McCreary, and its a "toss up" who will come under the wire first—if either.

The Louisville Commercial says that a series of joint debates will be arranged between Judge Swango and Col. Reynolds, Democratic and Republican candidates for register of the land office. Their list of dates, as the Commercial says, will be in Eastern Kentucky. Come on Col. Reynolds, we will give you the "proper courtesy" due a Republican.

Bradley will now make a Guerilla campaign of the state. He thinks that with no one to hold him down to truth and facts, that he can beguile "weak-kneed" and wavering Democrats to follow him into the Republican camp. But he will get left, for since Hardin has "walloped" him, Wat's stock has gone away up and a solid united Democracy will make him Kentucky's next governor.

These are the Elogians that kicked Bradley out of the joint debate: "Are you in favor of mixed schools?"

"Do you want the separate coach bill repealed?"

"Will you appoint any colored men to the offices with your gift?"

If he says yes, he offends the white Republicans. If he says no, then the "colored brudder" is out of sorts. It is a sad thing to find one's self in such straits.

The Post and Bradley no doubt would make a good team. One "hoohoo" because it can't be a leader, and the other weeps large salty weeps because he is supposed to be a leader, and can't play his hand.

Kenova has got a new newspaper. It has got so that when a man can gather together a shirt-tail full of type and a lye brush he starts a paper. After a little, the sheriff starts the editor. Thus a glittering dream becomes a glaring nightmare.—Lincoln Citizen.

The St. Louis Globe-Democrat (Rep.) says that "Bradley would do well to resume those joint debates." Billy don't think so, however, as 5 rounds in the ring with Hardin is all he can stand. Bradley was outclassed, that is all. Next time Billy "spars for points," he should get into the light-weight class, and not tackle heavy weights like our Wat.

All honor to Mercer county's gallant son. Against fearful odds, with a large portion of the Democratic press against him, with an aggressive and powerful Republican press fighting him, and with strife and dissensions in his own party, he goes up against the acknowledged leader, the shrewdest politician and the most polished and eloquent speaker in in the Republican party in Kentucky, and forces him to strike his colors in the sixth debate. Verily, as they say in the mountains, Wat's "a hoss."

Col. James Henry Burton is a titled gentleman from the Blue grass, who for years has been what the irreverent would call "a dead game sport." A few nights ago, while he was sleeping, he claims he was awakened by the rustle of wings, and looking up, saw an angel perched upon the foot of the bed. We have heard of the Kentucky colonel seeing most everything after partaking too freely of the "brew of the still," from blue devils to green monkeys, but this is the first time we have ever heard of a wanderer from realms celestial interviewing a follower of Bacchus. Anderson county whiskey must be an extra fine quality.

Bradley's gentle spirit is too exquisitely attuned for this mundane sphere; the shuffling of the feet of a mighty throng grates harshly upon his ear, and the noise incident to great gatherings tries his patient soul, and causes hysteria, while the unkind, though truthful things, that Hardin said of his party, touched the well spring of his heart and the salty tears flowed in such profusion that his constituents feared that Billy had absorbed all the water in Salt river on his last trip up. Yes, Billy is too tender a plant to be exposed to the rude winds of political adversity, and he will find sweet consolation after November, in the shades of political oblivion.

In a column write-up in the Mt. Sterling Journal of the advantages of that city, it heads the list with "a city jail." The genial editor of the Journal is an enthusiastic worker for the success of his town, but a boom article with the city jail for a leader, gets away with us. Now, if he really wanted to advertise Mt. Sterling's calaboose as a place where the "wicked cease from troubling and the 'jagged' are at rest," he ought to put a half-tone cut of "mine host Pat" at the head of the article. Pat's mug would draw the water out of a well, and we are sure if the Journal will take our little hint, "Castle Shanman" will be as full as the boarders at that institution generally are.

"Silver Dick" Bland, the cheap money man of Missouri, says he won't come to Kentucky and help "Jo," because the Democratic platform of Kentucky declares for sound money. Kentucky ought to shake hands with herself for this forbearance on the part of the cheap money statesman, for with Stewart, Sibley, Bland, Blackburn and other free silver chin peddlers at large in her borders, a "talked-to-death" epidemic is liable to result and kill off half the population.

THE HERALD.

Mrs. J. E. Brooks is on the sick list.

There are no vacant houses in Hazel Green.

Ladies, call on Mrs. Fred Day for a nice silk umbrella.

Miss Mary Jane Tyler is very sick at the home of her father.

J. H. Swango made a flying trip to Winchester last Saturday and Sunday.

See the change of schedule on the K. & S. A. in our Rothwell letter.

Chas. O'Connell, of THE HERALD, made a flying trip to Mt. Sterling Tuesday.

Call on Mrs. Fred Day for the newest thing in fall hats, the beaver crown affair.

Several of our cattle buyers have gone to the markets with good droves of cattle.

Next week is circuit court and the boys will be conspicuous by their absence.

The corn crop this year is estimated at 500,000,000 bushels in excess of last year.

Three of Lander Brooks' children have typhoid fever. Dr. Nickell is treating them.

Call on Mrs. Fred Day for ready made shirt waists, shirt-waist sets, link cut buttons, etc.

John Rose and Taylor Cuskey put a three-year-old colt each in the training stables last week.

Wm. Cruey has fifteen acres of crab grass that he will mow this year. He says it makes fine hay.

Miss Etta Kannels arrived last Saturday and was at her old post of duty at the Academy on Monday.

Look out for the Flying Dutchman that will be here at the fair. She is run by steam and plays a pipe organ.

Mrs. Fred Day has just received a nice line of fall millinery and notions, and the ladies should call and see her.

Little Pearl Day who has been under treatment at Cincinnati for her eyes, has returned home very much improved.

W. H. Cord's subject Sunday morning at the Christian church will be "Following Christ." All are invited to attend.

The pastures in the bluegrass are very fine and will probably last 'till December. This one fact will keep cattle at a premium.

Judge G. B. Swango and wife are in Louisville this week attending the encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic.

Henry Pieratt's bay mare, Mary, is doing some pretty work on the track. John Chaney, who is driving her, says she will be a winner.

The proceedings of the Wolfe County Teachers' Institute are unavoidably crowded out of this issue. They will appear next week.

Aunt Sallie Trimble is still very low and her end seems only a matter of time. The physicians give up all hopes for her recovery.

Louisville will be a little crowded this week with 400,000 visitors within her gates. This is the first G. A. R. encampment held south of the Mason and Dixon line.

Rev. J. T. Pieratt is now able to sit on the front porch of his residence and greet his friends who pass, all of whom are glad to see him out after his protracted illness.

Mrs. Levi Kask, jr., died at her home on Monday night last after an illness of only a few days. THE HERALD extends sympathies to the bereaved husband in this his sad hour.

Miss Sabina Taubee entertained a number of friends at dinner Wednesday, in honor of the 40th anniversary of her father's birth. Messrs. Sherman Cope and Henry Taubee and Misses Lila and Wm. Weeden, of Jackson, were present.

Next Monday the September term of the Wolfe Circuit Court convenes. The grand jury should look after our roads, as the overseers have thus far failed to do their duty.

J. T. Day has moved his saw mill from Lacy Creek to a site just above the bridge at Hazel Green. He will saw several millions feet of lumber to be shipped to Turin.

There were five marriages at West Liberty last week in one day, which breaks all previous records. Thus were made ten minds with not a single thought, ten hearts that beat for fun.

Owing to a rush of job work THE HERALD is out one day behind this week. W. F. Chentham, of Mt. Sterling, is with us now and we hope to be on time at every issue in the future.

Miss Fannie Gay Ingles, of Paris, arrived Wednesday and will begin a class in music next week. She was musical instructor at the Academy last year and had a very progressive class.

Dr. J. Mason Kash, who has been at Forks of Elkhorn for two weeks with a view of locating there, says he is well pleased with the outlook and will probably move his family there in the near future. His patrons will be sorry to give him up.

J. G. Trimble, of Mt. Sterling, is much pleased with the outlook in Montgomery county for the Hazel Green fair. He says that a great many people from his town will be on the ground's and all are anticipating a fine time.

THE HERALD has a young attorney in its employ who has thought all along that "settling up" was the hardest thing for an embryo lawyer to do. He now concludes that settling down is a much tougher job. Pity he couldn't do both.

Killie Puckett, erstwhile Police Judge of Torrent, came very near being burned out of house and home a few days since. While cooking a mess of pottage the rear end of his kitchen took fire and it was with much difficulty that the flames were extinguished.

Mr. Edwards, vice president of the Indian Creek Coal company, and J. Taylor Day will hold a conference in Mt. Sterling Monday with a view to extending the coal road to the mouth of Indian creek. Both are large owners of timber in that section and it is thought that the extension will be made.

Without Relief, There is No Pain!

Mrs. S. K. Sell, of Pomona, Cal., had the bad luck to sprain her ankle. "I tried several liniments," she says, "but was not cured until I used Chamberlain's Pain Balm. That remedy cured me and I take pleasure in recommending it and testifying to its efficacy." This medicine is also of great value for rheumatism, lame back, pains in the chest, pleurisy, and all deep-seated and muscular pains. For sale by John M. Rose.

Asa B. Pieratt, of Ezel, is a coming Democrat and one whose influence and usefulness to the party's cause will soon be felt. His letter to the Courier-Journal defining the position of the national Democracy in reference to General Hardin and the currency was a scourer and no doubt had an influence on that great journal as to the policy best to pursue in the coming campaign.

A few nights ago a dog with a rope around his neck invaded the porch of Dr. —, of our town, whereupon the doctor pulled himself out of bed and gave chase to his doggie for an even quarter, and that, too with his nether anatomy wholly uncovered. The doctor thought the dog had stolen his bride.

We would be glad if our friends would give us any items of interest that may fall under their observation. Don't let the dignity (?) of the editor bluff you off; just call him when you have news and tell him, whether he wants to hear it or not. All such little favors are appreciated by a newspaper man, and it helps to make lighter the burden that he habitually "takes" around with him.

Tell What

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Has Done for Them.

"When our baby was three weeks old he broke out with sores which the doctor called a severe case of eczema. We tried everything that we could think of but he failed to get relief. We consulted several doctors but their medicine was of no avail. Seeing a similar case which had been

Cured by Hood's

Sarsaparilla we determined to try it. I procured some of this medicine and it proved to be the only thing which gave satisfaction. Our child is now two years and eight months old and weighs 40 pounds. He is a sprightly lad and is very fleshy. He has been completely cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla. This has proved a celebrated case in this vicinity and his cure has been a surprise to all those who know about it." J. T. WHALEY, Hazel Green, Kentucky.

The record of remarkable cures effected enables us truthfully to say that

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Death of Elder J. A. Howard.

The sad intelligence of the death of Elder J. A. Howard reached us yesterday, and it is with a profound sorrow that we chronicle his death. He returned from Morehead several weeks ago after a successful series of meetings in Rowan county. Shortly after he was taken sick, but at the August meeting at Ezel he was able to preach by sitting in a chair in the pulpit. He was taken worse on the following day and after a lingering of more than five weeks with typhoid fever, he finally succumbed to the grim monster of death and passed over the river. Thus passed away one of the most successful evangelists that has ever lived among us. THE HERALD extends sympathies to the bereaved wife and children, and may they find solace in these beautiful words of the poet:

"There is no death! What seems so is transition; This life of mortal breath Is but a suburb of the life of heaven, Whose portal we call death."

Mrs. John Davis has returned from a two weeks' visit to her father, on Lexington river.

"Curable."
We know that it sounds curious to talk about the Electropneumatic disease, but bear in mind the fact that it is the old treatment that has produced the cure incurable. We do not make the claim that we can cure all incurable diseases, but we do maintain with all earnestness that a case pronounced incurable by your family physician is a splendid field for the operation of the Electropneumatic. It may be just the treatment necessary, and is quite common against the "Poise," but in such a case, the fact of the physician's statement is proven to be true. But many of the patient who has been given up by his physician who has again received life through treatment of the Electropneumatic.

The Wesleyans were named from John Wesley. They were called Methodists in derision because Wesley and his companions methodized their time in order to conserve it and do more work. In England the Primitive Methodists are called "Ranters," from their habit of preaching on the street or in public places or wherever they can get a audience.

Last August while working in the harvest field I became overheated, was suddenly attacked with cramps and was nearly dead. DON'T STOP TOBACCO
IT'S INJURIOUS TO STOP SUD- DENLY and don't be imposed upon by buying a remedy that requires you to do so, as it is nothing more than a substitute. In the sudden stoppage of tobacco you must have some stimulant, and in most all cases, the effect of the stimulant, be it opium, morphine, or other opiate, leaves a far worse habit contracted. Ask your druggist about BACO CURE. It is purely vegetable. You do not have to stop using tobacco with BACO-CURE. IT WILL NOTIFY YOU WHEN TO STOP and your desire for tobacco will cease. Your system will be as free from nicotine as the day before you took your first chew or smoke. An iron-clad written guarantee to absolutely cure the tobacco habit in all its forms, or money refunded. Dear Sirs—I have been a tobacco fiend for many years, and during the past two years have smoked fifteen to twenty cigars regularly every day. My whole nervous system became affected, until my physician told me I must give up the use of tobacco for the time being, at least. I tried the so-called "Keely Cure," "No-To-Bac," and various other remedies, but without success, until I accidentally learned of your "Baco Cure." Three weeks ago today I commenced using your preparation, and today I consider myself completely cured; I am in perfect health, and the horrible craving for tobacco, which every inveterate smoker fully appreciates, has completely left me. I consider your "Baco-Cure" simply wonderful, and can fully recommend it. Yours very truly, C. W. HORNICK.

BILLY KNOCKED OUT.

REPORT OF THE "SCRAP" BY ROUNDS.

Bradley's Second Throw in the Sponges in the Beginning of the Sixth Round Carried to His Corner, Where He Was Captured.

The great political pugilistic contest was abruptly finished at midnight last Friday by W. O. Bradley throwing up the sponge and leaving P. Wat Hardin undisputed master of the field. The following is an account by rounds: Round 1.—Both contestants sprang into the ring at the call of time, Hardin wearing his same old emblem, the Rooster, while Bradley sported the new and untried ones, the Log Cabin and Don Skin. Each man came up smiling and looked confident. Hardin led off with his new "Silent Stroke," but failed to land, while Bradley as a return delivered a full "gold rib-roaster," which fell with telling effect upon Hardin's unprotected side. Each man then fought shy, looking for an opening until the gong sounded. Bradley's stock goes way up after this round and betting all in his favor.

Round 2.—Both men came up smiling, Hardin looking better than in the beginning. Bradley leads for Hardin's "record," but fails to land and is in return treated to one of Hardin's old time honest knock-down arguments. Bradley leads again, but fails to land, while Hardin plants a well-directed blow on Bradley's "windpipe and bluster." Going—Hardin takes up and the betting all in his favor.

Round 3.—Hardin comes up first with one of his old time smiles, while Bradley seems a little groggy. Hardin assumes the offensive with Bradley running and falling down to avoid punishment. Hardin presses the fight landing on Bradley's "windpipe" several times. Bradley tries to "duck" and "dodge" and seems to be playing for time. Betting 3 to 1 in favor of Hardin.

Round 4.—As time is called Bradley steps forward, plainly showing the effect of the severe blows which Hardin has been dealing him, and leads with one of his "misstatements," which Hardin gracefully parried and then in a succession lands blow of truth and honesty" which soangers Bradley than had the gong not have sounded when it did, it could have been the last of Bradley. Everything is Hardin and the betting is 2 to 1 that Bradley will not last eight rounds.

Round 5.—Hardin shows up smiling without a scratch while Bradley is so weak and groggy from the effect of his punishment in the last two rounds that he is barely able to stand. Hardin sneezes with his annihilator and lands Bradley with "honest statements, truth and facts" all round the ring. Bradley makes an attempt to defend himself, but to no purpose. Bradley is evenly licked and seems to know he is taken.

Round 6.—Bradley comes to the ring a badly bruised and nearly punished man, while Hardin seems fresher than at any stage of the game. Bradley attempts to make a lead, but catches the cut of Hardin's eye and drops out of the fight forever. Dr. Hunter throws up the sponge.—Winchester Democrat.

Names of Kentucky Postoffices. You will not have to leave your names of Kentucky if you want names that are as odd and as curious. For instance, the county has families in which these names are found: Hogg, Horn, Happy, Holiday, Profit, Democrat, Rockhouse, Rittenwelter, Walkin and Watergate. Some peculiar postoffices found in these counties are: Smooth Creek, Millstone, Paperweight, Rockhouse, Ratterhard and Solomon. They believe in long names up that way, and one poor child struggles under the overpowering cognomen of Robert S. Samuel T. Nelson R. Benjamin P. Hester. In Knott county there is one family which has ten members nicknamed thus: "Stick, Burch, Ham, Hardup, Buck, Dol, Sal, Let, Pol, Bat and Do-em." Leslie county has Mad-dog, Catfish and Hell-for-Sartin postoffices, and the last named is on Hell-for-Sartin creek, which is said to have been named by early settlers who encountered many tribulations while exploring this particular locality and named the creek accordingly. Pike county comes next with Bass, Batrice, Bechide, Canada, Fish Trap, Home, Joe, John, Lookout, Paw-Paw and Prairie postoffices. Elliott has Backbone, Gimlet, Mink, Ordinary and Wyett postoffices. And then, in the language of the song, "There are others, over so many others."

A Wolfe County Negro Prodigy.

The Louisville Post has the following to say of a negro prodigy and gives Wolfe county as his residence, but if there is such a Sengambian warbler in this neck of the woods, he is unknown to fame in his own backwater and we believe, lives only in the imagination of the truthful drummer, and that said imagination must have been awfully distorted by "mountain dew" to weave such a fairy tale:

A little negro with a voice like that of Jennie Lind has been delighting his people of Wolfe county with his singing for some time, and now he is to go to New York to travel with a theatrical company. The pickaninny sang for a drummer several weeks ago and the drummer went to New York and told of the wonderful voice he had heard in the Kentucky mountains. The little negro received a letter last week from the manager of the show asking him to come to New York and join a vaudeville company. The dusky songster was promised a place that would pay him well, and he is going, cottonade trousers, bed ticking suspenders and all, as soon as he can get a pass to make the trip on. The boy's name is Zeb Wallace and he doesn't know how well he can warble.

In Kentucky a Doubtful State?

The peculiar political conditions that exist in Kentucky have led many people to believe that the state is a doubtful one and that the Republicans have a chance to carry it this fall. For this reason there is great interest, both at home and abroad, in accurate and reliable political news from all parts of the state. The Weekly Courier-Journal is now covering this field perfectly, and it is publishing the news without bias or prejudice. A close reader of the Weekly Courier-Journal should be able to forecast in advance what will be the outcome of the state election next November. In addition to giving all the political news and all the news of every kind, the Weekly Courier-Journal is offering to its subscribers $3,000 in cash presents for guesses as to the exact vote that will be received by the Democratic, Republican and Populist candidates for governor of Kentucky. The price of the paper is only one dollar a year. Sample copies containing full details of the cash present plan will be sent free to any address. Write to Courier-Journal Company, Louisville, Ky.

Maj. W. H. Taulbee returned last week from a fortnight's visit to his son and nephew, Drs. J. B. and J. H. Taulbee, of Mt. Sterling.

HARMONIZE AND WIN THE FIGHT.

Extracts From the State Central Committee's Appeal to Democrats.

In obedience to the resolution recently adopted by the State Central Committee the undersigned earnestly appeal to the patriotism, loyalty and devotion of the Democratic party in the interest of good government and the welfare of the people of Kentucky, to give their united and hearty support to the ticket and platform made by the party at the June convention held in this city.

Whatever opinions you may hold as to economic questions, whatever differences there may exist relative thereto, we earnestly and sincerely ask you to lay them on the altar of the party, for its safety and success, and unite in one great effort to defeat the Republican party and its nominees.

"Certainly no true Democrat desires the election of the Republican ticket and the defeat of the Democratic ticket."

"The good people of Kentucky surely do not want to try the folly and dangerous experiment of turning over the state and local affairs to the Republican party, nearly one half of which is composed of the negro vote."

"The election of the Republican ticket and surrender of control of our state government to the Republican party means a radical change in our social and public educational conditions that will bring trouble and evil to our people."

"We plead for harmony, charity and forbearance under the broadness of thought and utterance, in a spirit of conciliation, on the part of the Democratic press of the state, and of every Democratic voter throughout the state, for their united action and support of the entire ticket and platform. Let us with one mind, one heart, spirit and purpose, labor for the defeat of the Republican party and its ticket, by a majority so pronounced that Kentucky will become more firmly settled than ever in the Democratic ranks."

Restored and Rejuvenated.

Old Methods of Reaching Disease Supplanted by the New, the Energetic, the Direct.

Mrs. Dora Wenzel, Cherry Creek, N.Y., writes Dr. Fennor: "I have been a long sufferer from nervous debility, nervous depression, nervous disease, Your Blood and Liver Remedy and Nerve Tonic have restored me to robust health."

Dr. Fennor's Blood and Liver Remedy and Nerve Tonic never fails.

It is a Sarsaparilla-Mandrake-Prince's Pine Alternative, Nerve Tonic and Restorative Compound.

Cures biliousness, headaches, constipation, dyspepsia, irritability, sleeplessness, "the blues," swollen glands.

All blood impurities, skin diseases, scurfiness, acne, discharges, itching and itching, "tired," stomach and bowel disorders, blotches, pimples, moth, syphilis.

Impairment of nerves, offensive breath.

It does these great cures because it physics from the blood, liver and tissues all the impurities, "ashes and debris" as it were.

Without weakening but all the while strengthening instead.

It causes the Liver to throw off its Bile. It cleans out the entire alimentary canal, stomach and bowels alike, ridding them of all effete, offensive and slimy mucus, worms and other vermin.

Restoring sleep, appetite, flesh, strength, comfort, freshness and bloom—in a word health.

Including self-poise to the nervous system, and both sweetness of breath and disposition.

It is speedy in its action. Improvement beginning as soon as the first dose is swallowed.

And as certain as the law of gravitation.

Note the high standard of testimonials in circular at drug stores and around bottles.

They are such as only the highest order or merit could command—voluntary offerings from the cottage, princely palaces and offices of State.

Recording cures of cases more grave and complicated than ever heretofore successfully reached by medicine.
